Class Will — June, 1953

We, the Seniors of the Whitesboro Central High School, declare that the following is a copy of our last will and testament in high school. The original is sealed in a time capsule, buried under the Senior Rest, set to be opened the day after graduation. The Seniors will as follows:

Barbara Althoff, all her times being late for school to her brother Douglas, as he's always early. Jerry Alexander, his locker to anyone strong enough to open it. He never could. Sam Abraham, the bean-picker's truck to his brother David, so he won't have to walk home from football practice. Ronald Babicz, his Latin II book to some future Latin student because he did not have much use for it. Margaret Bailey, all her clothes to Connie Szlosek and Marianne Brouilette, because most of them are theirs anyway. Ann Balcum, her Chemistry book and notes to Frances Cooney. Maybe they will make more sense to her. John Barry, all his girls to Terry Carlson, as he's going to become quite a ladies man in the next few years. Richard Bathrick, his solo chair in band to Jack Dimbleby. He thinks Jack should have had it for the past two years. Gary Beaton, his Latin books to Miss Merritt, because they stunted his growth.

Josephine Blat, her good times at A.B. to Jean Kwieczinski, because she is her "little" sister. Theresa Bord, lots of fun and good times to next year's Homemaking III class, because she had lots of fun in this year's. Douglas Bowen, his typewriter to anyone who wants it. He doesn't. Robert Branagh, all his books to Bob Milling, as he'll be able to use them in the future. Joyce Bridenbecker, all her teachers and troubles to her sister Ruth, because Joyce has had enough of them in the last four years. Mary Briggs, the good times in high school to her sister Gail, because she has had a lot of fun, and she hopes her sister will also. Robert Brown, the presidency of M.E. to Ray Greer, because Ray would be good at the job. Ronald Burak, his laboratory station in chemistry to Ed Knych, so he can try to blow up the school also.

Mary Carr, her gym locker to her sister Pat. She is always using it. Richard Cheney, his position as school photographer to anyone who is willing to take it. He's tired of staying up all night printing pictures. Michael Cienava, his seat in Mr. Morrison's study hall to Ed Knych, so he can sleep as peacefully as he did. Leo Cornmire, his books to anyone who can use them, because they will need them in their Senior year. Ann Cox, her sense of humor to Edith Malecki, because she has a good start. Larry Cox, his height to Edmund Hartman, because he is about as tall as Larry is now. Carolyn Crumb, all her headaches in producing the yearbook to next year's editor-in-chief. She has had her share. Dennis Davis, his height and weight to Bobby Callahan, as he'll need it to play football. Joe DeBiase, a pair of crutches to Tom Hughes, in case Joe cripples Tom again. Carol Delpho, Mr. Morrison to her sister Betty, so she can listen to his daily speeches. Chris Durham, his seat in chemistry to any junior who wants it, as he won't need it anymore.

Allen Dymon, his seat in social studies to Edmund Markowictz. It never did him any good. Doreen Eberley, her dislike of school to her brother Bob, because he has a good start. Maren Ellis, the fun as a senior to her sisters Joan and Dorene, because it is the best year of all. Thomas Farrell, all of his 6'3" to his little brother, Gault, so he can be a good basketball manager and get along with Mr. Frye. Douglas Fauteux, his books to Joe Zullo, because he may get more use from them. Douglas Ferguson, his seat in chemistry class to Greg Nickerson. He will enjoy it. Pat Field, her place to work at S.A.S. to Joanne Toomey, because she always wanted to work there. Eugene Fletcher, his gym locker to Doug Tobin to put his junk in. Lillian Gadziala, her social studies book to Donald Parda, because he will give it the same treatment. He'll never open it. Marjorie Garguilo, her social studies seat to John, so he can tell his troubles to Mr. Morrison too.

Angelo Gentile, his junior year typewriter in typing class to Orlo Geary, because he blames him for flunking the typing test. Mary Gentile, all her subjects to her sister Kathleen, because she'll need them as badly as Mary did. Robert Gifford, his "clean" football uniform to Mike Piekielniak, because he never used it much. Patricia Glatt, her seat in chemistry to her brother Dick, so he can learn as much as she did. Richard Glatt, his seat in social studies class to any junior who needs watching, so Mrs. Potter will have someone to watch next year. Monica Gorecki, all her many cheerleading practices to Jane Frye. She wasn't there much either. Robert Gossin, his Senior year to Pat W. because she made his interesting. Bill Grace, his car to any junior who misses the bus next year.

Lillian Hayduk, liking to write compositions to Franklin. He hates to write them. Carolyn Hayes, her seat in Mr. Howe's study hall to anyone who wants to sleep sitting up because he won't let you put your head down. Dana Hardy, a piece of pumpkin pie to Mr. Morrison, so he will always remember her. Diane Heintz, her gym sneaks to Nancy Moran, because she wears them more than Diane does. Rodian Heretz, Miss Berryman's classes to anyone that has her next year, as he always enjoyed her stories. George Herthum, his drivers license to Rog Kane, so he can take Mr. Rosebush's car and Herthum's truck. Joan Hool, her combs in her books to Evelyn Dudeck, as she always has them. Kathleen Hughes, her seat in Mr. Morrison's social studies class to Rosemarie Urban, because Kay has had the pleasure of having it for two years. Tom Hughes, his seat in biology to anyone who is restless because it is so comfortable that he always fell asleep.

Richard Imhoff, his seat in study hall to Bob Lisandrelli, so he can enjoy Mr. Morrison. Edwin Jassak, his seat in Mr. Morrison's study hall to his sister Carolyn, so she can have as much fun as he did. Junior Jowid, all his chemistry notes to Bob Swartzman, because they were Bob's brother's anyway. Alfred Juda, his paper route to Brian Sopher, because he already has part of it. Thomas Junker, his good times in Mr. Morrison's history class to anyone who can stand it. He deserves another one like Tom. Pauline Kobielski, Mr. Knutty's chemistry class to anyone who likes jokes. Regina Kobielski, her Remington in typing class to her sister Dolores. Maybe she can set the margins. Joyce Kolmer, her seat on bus 19 to Nan Barnes. She never gets there on time to get one. Tom Konopelski, his second year Latin book to Dave Jenkins. It has many answers in it and Dave will need them. Josephine Krawczyk, a package of fresh chewing gum to Miss Berryman. All she ever gets is used gum. Elaine Kulesa, the Navy to Marian Grieco. Maybe she can take part of it her way.

Shirley LaDue, all her letter-writing to George Watson, because he gets them all. Louis LaGrand, all his books to his sister Judy. She'll need them. Austin Laramie, his seat in room 30 to Dick Alfano. He will suffer as much as Austin did. Shirley Lazarek, her position as president of F.H.A. to her sister Lorraine. She has a good start in junior F.H.A. Deborah Lennon, her place in the driver's seat to her sister Judy because she is always telling her what to do. Ivars Leja, all his fun in Latin III to any courageous boy, being the only boy in the class has its advantages. Douglas Lougidice, his "two-guns" to Herb Lockwood, because he is a "deadeye." Lou Lombard, a bottle of spirits to a friend with a Ford. Robert Lottermoser, his typewriter to anyone who can make it work. He never could. James Manley, the space in his car trunk to the members of the C.Y.O. basketball team. They always need a ride home from the game.

Morrie Marino, all his love for high school to Martha Adle of Camden because she needs it. Lucille Mantor, Stanley Zurakowski to a certain girl because she always wanted him. Larry McBride, his driving skill to Frank Lamoree. He never appreciated it anyway. James McCarthy, his '52 Olds to Dick McDonald because he always got caught taking his brother's. Bob McCorduck, a table at Nofri's to a certain few junior boys because it's so crowded on Friday nights. Jerome McElhenny, all his genders from business English to Jack Curtis. He never heard of them either. George Meehan, his seat in social studies to his sister Jean, because it never did him any good. Betty Miller, her gift of gab to Shirley Rollins, because she needs it. Jane Miller, her gym suit to her brother Bill. He has been in the gym so much that he has worn his out. John Miller, his '37 Terraplane to Fred Bragg, because his Chrysler is not much good. Marilyn Miller, a certain Senior boy to Mary Hankinson because she has liked him for so long. Bob Miazga, his typewriter in Mr. T's class to Allen Janus, because maybe he can type more than thirty-five words a minute. Nancy Nemeyer, her canoe paddle to Doug Engle, because he's forever breaking them. Jeanette Nogas, her speech book to a future student because she hopes that he will learn something and have as much fun in class as she has had.

Jack O'Connor, all his high school memories to Ken Sweetland, because he needs some. Marilyn Olsiewski, all the detentions she didn't have to Francis Albers. He's already got a good start. Janet Pelc, her speech book to Pat Sergott, as she will have more success in practicing her speeches on the bus than Janet did. Beverly Peters, the seat she never had on the school bus to Shirley, because she will probably have to stand anyway. Joan Powell, homeroom 14 to Claire Jewell. Joan never used it very much. Shirley Powell, her seat in homeroom 31 to Nancy Roberts. She will need it next year. Pat Powers, all her left-over rhinestones to Bob of the Sue and Bett Diner for a placement in his jewelry display. Chester Przylucki, his wonderful times at Whitesboro to his cousins Jean and Joan Kwiecinski. They deserve them. Herbert Race, his car to Jane Frye. She always wants to drive it. Barbara Rathbone, all her fun and enjoyment in her Senior year to her sisters Sandra and Valarie because they can't wait until they're Seniors. Norman Reinhart, his seat in Mr. Morrison's history class to Dave because he will need it next year.

Byron Rice, his good name to his brother Robert because he can use it. Roger Riehl, his seat in chemistry class to anyone because it's a good place to sleep. Pat Riggles, all her books to her brothers and sisters because they will get them anyway. Joan Roberts, all her fun in high school to her brother Milton, as he is coming here next year. Lukie Roberts, her locker to Ronnie Evans because he was always there anyway. Tony Rosinski, his excuses in football to Jim Hoke and John Roberts. They're going to need them. Margaret Russell, her fun at A.B. camp last year to Harriet Whaling because Harriet wants to go this year. Kurt Ryan, his seat in chemistry to Bill Burnett. Maybe he can fill it better. James Saville, Mr. Morrison's social studies class to his brother Harry because he can take up where Jim left off. Ronald Saville, his social studies books to his brother Harry because he'll need the answers that are in them. Ronald Schantz, his skill at deer hunting to Don Broadhurst. He needs it very badly. Jane Schmitter, her locker to Barbara Burdick because it never opens at the right time.

Richard Schofer, his wrestling uniform to Guy Bailey as Dick has no further use for it. Joan Schreppel, her bookkeeping book to Gayle because it was Ray's in the first place. Donald Seavey, a Ford truck to Henry Kokosenski so he can get to F.F.A. meetings. Norbert Seavey, his social studies notes to Mr. Morrison so he won't have to write them on the board. John Segal, someone to talk to Nancy Moran next year in study hall 28. She will be lost without John. Howard Sheerin, all the corny jokes he ever told in social studies class to Mr. Morrison so he can tell them in future years at Whitesboro. Walter Shiema, his law book to Paul Czerkies because he can use it. Ann Marie Siriannie, her seat in Mr. Ellis's driver education class to anyone who can agree with him about sports. She never could. Francis Siriannie, his typewriter to anyone who could put up with it. It never would spell right. Elinor Smith, her excuse book to Dorothy Davis because she will need plenty of them. Tanya Smolinsky, all her height to her brother Bud. He'll need it.

Burton Sperry, his Crosley to Ed Hartman because it will be a wreck by the time he graduates. Janet Steinhorst, her locker to Joan Humphrey because she is a genius at opening things. Jean Stofle, all the "good times" of her Senior year to the junior girls. They have a head start on her anyway. Marcia Stolarczyk, her locker to Brian Roth. He never had one in a good school. George Stohrer, his chemistry notes to anyone who will enjoy the funny pictures he drew on them. Ann Thomas, all her knowledge of math to Carol Deck because she will need it as a Senior to figure out how to keep up on everything a Senior has to do. Doris Tobin, Mr. Morrison's history class to Pat Sergott in hopes she will enjoy it as much as Doris did. Barbara Tormey, her place in A Cappella Choir to Carol Deck because she will enjoy it very much. Gene Uebler, his seat in agriculture to Tony Laporte because he will still be there next year. Norman Ulinski, his seat in Miss Miller's class to Ronald Godfrey because Ron will need it again next year. Bill Urban, his seat in Mr. Rosebush's office to his sister Rosemarie, because it was so comfortable. James Vivyan, all his agriculture books to Peggy Hughes because she will need them to answer his questions.

Patricia Wendt, her geometry book to her brother, Jerry. Maybe he can get more sense out of it than Pat could. Barbara Wheeler, a pair of too small gloves to Poppy McDonald and Harriet Whaling, because they don't seem to fit anyone else and they may as well have them as a souvenir. Jean Whipple, all the "advice" given her to her sister, Shirley, because she will be able to use it. Mary Ann White, her seat in typing class to some junior to see if they can do better than she did. Joan Wildhack, her nickname, "J. B." Sr., to Joanne Bailey, because she doesn't like to be "J. B." Jr. Paul Wrubel, his seat at "Bobs" to Anita Pliska as they were always there together. Dolores Zaniewski, her seat on bus 15 to Judy Corabi because she never seemed to have one herself. Stanley Zurakowski, his quick decisions on some things to Richard Dudrak. Maybe he can make up his mind faster.

THE Che-ga-guat-ka

This is the story of the construction and growth of the Senior Class at Whitesboro Central School, Whitesboro, New York, in the year 1953.

It is the year that the expansion program of our school was voted on — indicating the concern and farsightedness of our community. We Seniors have been offered important opportunities in our school years. As we stand on the threshold of our new life, we look back in review at those opportunities in an effort to appraise ourselves as the finished product of the school of which we are proud.

We came to Whitesboro Central a few years ago. The immensity of the building and the strangeness bewildered us. After a week had passed, we became accustomed to the surroundings and the rules we were to follow. We had ideals to attain such as appreciation, service, achievement and sporstmanship. Our mental and social development had begun.

Using our subjects as the foundation, the teachers as engineers, and the various extra-curricular activities as material, the construction of the present Senior Class got rapidly underway.

With us we carry Whitesboro Central School's motto — "We enter to learn and go forth to serve."

To AN IMPORTANT builder

we . . . the Class of '53 . . . proudly dedicate our yearbook . . . to Miss Margaret Jackson, our school's art instructor, who has helped us in numerous ways.

With her outstanding and tireless advice and aid during the preparation for our Junior Prom, the Senior Play and many other numerous activities, Miss Jackson has truly become an important builder for our class. Her advice has been invaluable and she has unselfishly given up her time for our enjoyment and instruction.

As a token of appreciation for all she has done for us, we the Senior Class offer to her our dedication of this, our Yearbook.

A building

must be built on a firm foundation with capable constructors in order to be a strong and serviceable structure. We Seniors have our subjects as a firm foundation and our teachers have been the architects and engineers who have guided us so carefully.

We have enough subjects to offer a wide choice. In the eighth grade we roughly sketched the schedule we would follow in high school. Our future was barely perceptible. Some chose the College Entrance Course, others the Commercial Course, and still others the Academic Course.

In the freshman year we charted a more or less standard course, science, social studies, and English, with either elementary algebra and a language added for the College Entrance Course or introduction to business for the Commercial Course. By the end of that year our plans had become a little clearer. Using the ninth grade subjects as a base, we built onward and upward, step by step. From time to time schedules were changed to fit the clear paths to the future — fast becoming the firm foundation.

The teachers as engineers were the ones who built the firm foundation. They took the raw materials, combined them carefully, and patiently molded them according to individual needs and designs. The Senior Class is indebted to these engineers for their wonderful work. Our June graduation is evidence of the goal having been reached.

The Seniors are embarking now on new adventure. Some will go to college, others will join the service, or go directly to their chosen career. Whatever we do, we know that our futures have been built firmly with the best guidance so that we can face the world with assurance.

Our growth may not be different from that of the classes that have gone before us, nor perhaps any different from the ones following in our footsteps. If the foundation is sound and the constructors are as good as we have had, a successful outcome is inevitable.

This year's Student Council has accomplished more than most of us realize under the able leadership of these officers: Louis La Grand, President; Ivars Leja, Vice-President; Margaret Russell, Recording Secretary; Shirley Greiner, Corresponding Secretary; and John Roberts, Treasurer.

Starting last fall, the Student Council undertook the responsibility of cleaning up the school grounds. There shouldn't be any need for another "clean-up" drive now that through the student council extra waste paper baskets have been provided in necessary places.

At Christmas time, W. C. S. reflected the holiday spirit with its array of lights on the tree in front of the building and the impressive candles in the windows. This idea originated in the Student Council.

Thanks to the Student Council, there is now dancing in Room 10, fourth period, with music by the new juke box bought with the money made in the Student Council store.

Five students were sent to the "Herald Tribune Forum" in New York City to meet with students from all over the United States and discuss problems of foreign relations. The Student Council will pay these students' expenses to the forum.

Last but certainly not the least of the Student Council's contributions to the school are the new bulletin boards on either side of the trophy case.

Did you know that all these things came about through the efforts of the Student Council? Chances are you didn't, but you are to be thanked for them — for you make up the Student Council.

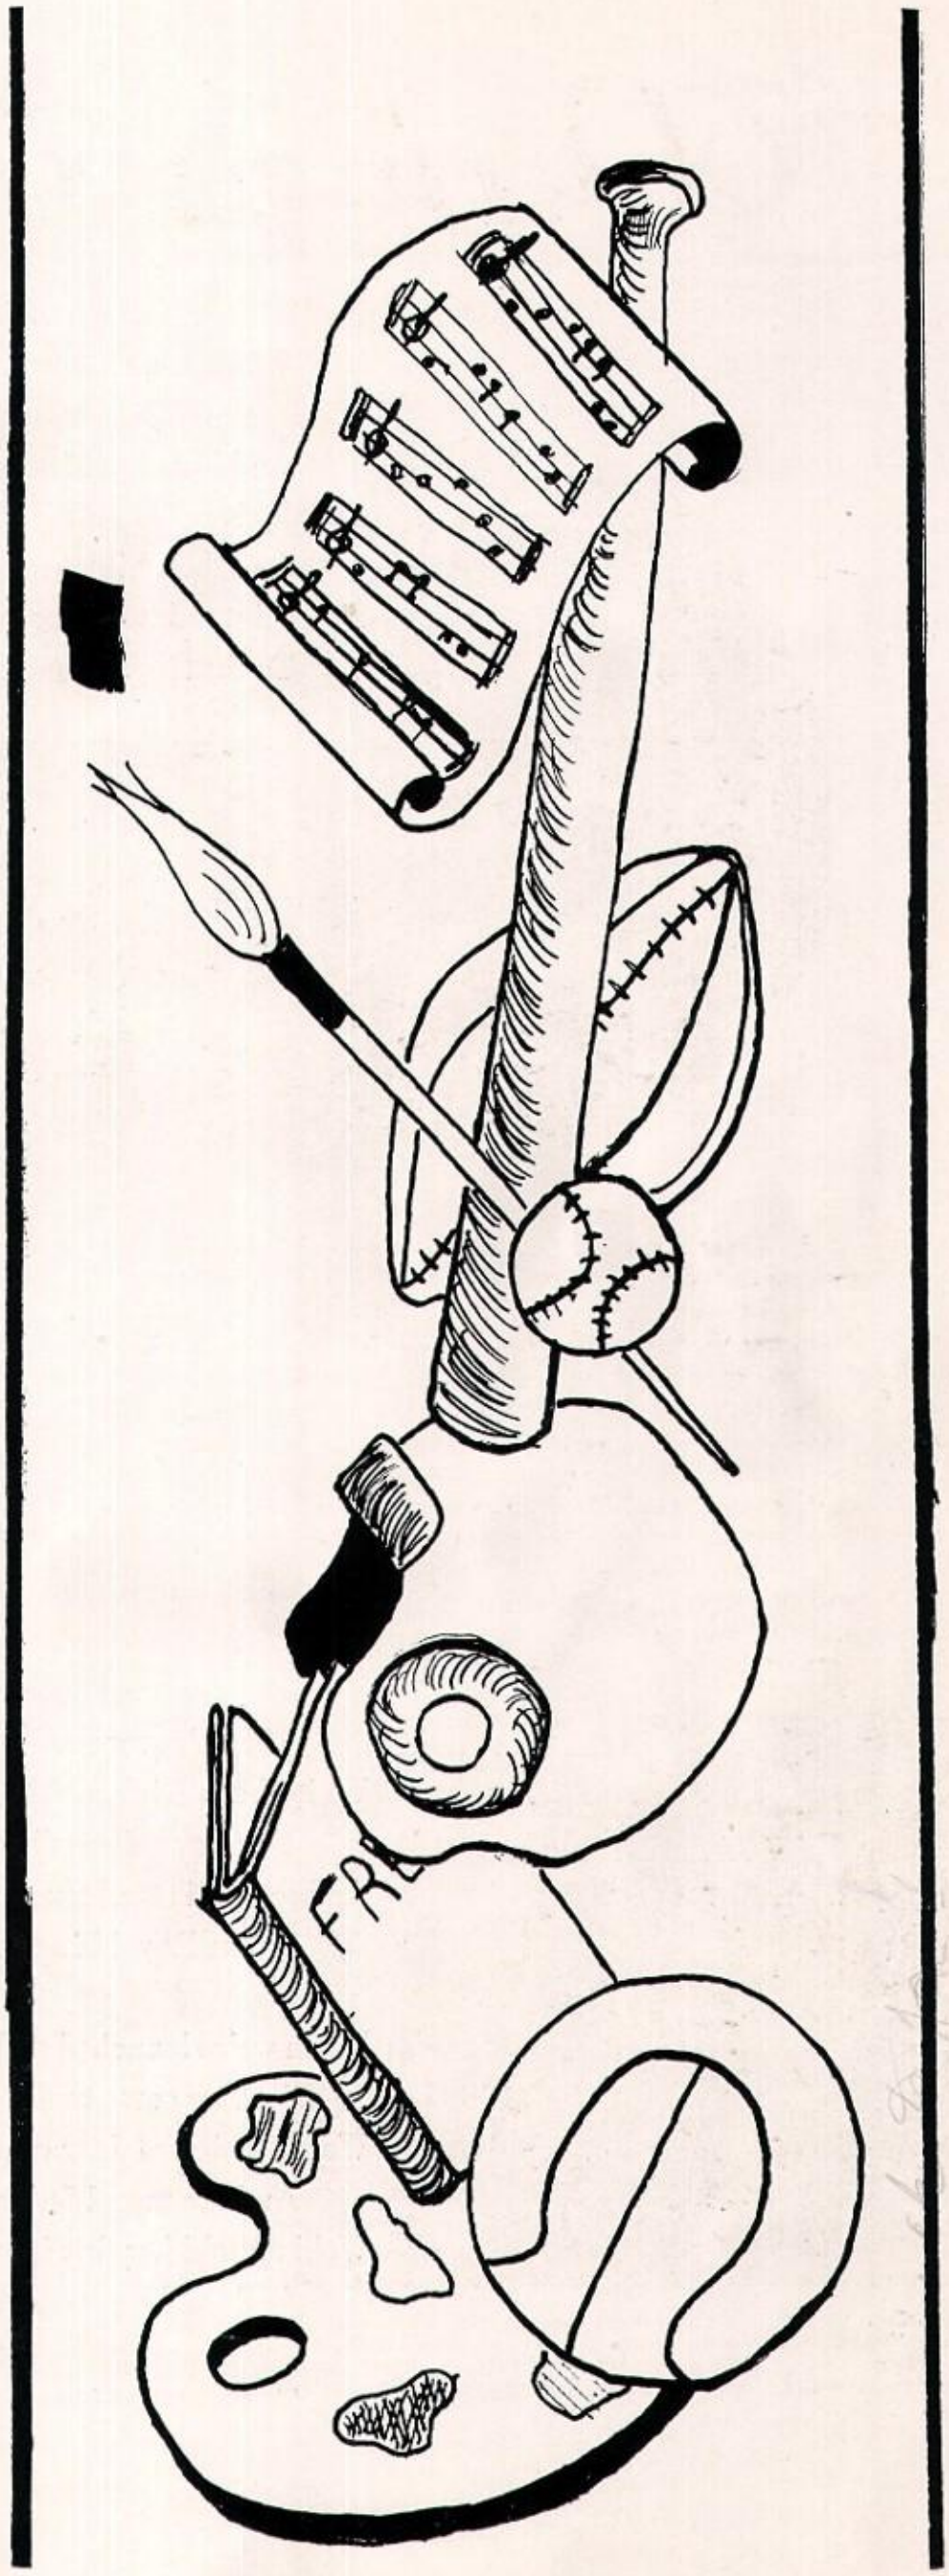
The material is another essential part of the structure. The foundation having been laid, new material is needed. The material and the amount is picked according to the type of structure it is to be.

With the activities at Whitesboro Central there is certainly enough variety of material to use. In the seventh and eighth grades we were proud to help out in such service groups as Library Council and Junior Service. We could also take part in sports in the gym or be a member of Junior Homemakers of America. The music department offered us instrument lessons so that when we were competent enough we could join Junior Band or Orchestra. If we hadn't any talent for playing instruments and yet desired to have some phase of music, we could sing in Junior Choir. Also the talent of creative writing could be brought out in "Wisp" in the "Junior Highlights" column.

We passed into senior high and new activities were offered us as we progressed. The more intellectual characteristics are used in such clubs as National Honor Society, Scio and French Clubs, and Secretarial Practice. Our modern day development brought about Television, Photography, and Radio Clubs. Many of the Junior High activities were extensions of the Senior High. "Wisp", music and sports are activities that could be carried over very easily. Junior Homemakers and Junior Service are typical examples of organizations whose members are transferred when they reach high school. Such activities as Yearbook and Junior Prom are in connection with the class only.

Whether the building shall be weak or strong depends upon the individual. The material is there, and it's up to the person to decide what material he wants and the amount he can use.

We at Whitesboro are proud of the activities we have and the success we have had with them.



The rules BY WHICH WE BUILD

Alma Mater

Hail to thee! O Sons of Whitesboro,
We have a trust to keep;
The love of Whitesboro High School
And her high ideals to seek;
Loyalty is for the blue,
And the white means honor bright;
So we'll stand true forever
To the Royal Blue and White.

Through the four long years of High School,
'Midst the scenes we love so well;
We have struggled on and upward
Till we've reached the goal ideal;
Whitesboro High, we'll ne'er forget you;
You have always loomed so bright,
And we'll all stand true forever
To the Royal Blue and White.

When we're launched on Life's great journey,
And we come to toil and care;
We will think of dear old Whitesboro
And the moral we've learned there;
We'll uphold her fine ideals,
And we'll represent the right —
Be right, be square, be true, be fair
To the Royal Blue and White

SENIOR LIBRARY COUNCIL OFFICERS — Annabelle Brockway, President; Mary Silcox, Vice-President; Betty Kurniewicz, Secretary and Treasurer.

SCIO CLUB OFFICERS — Roger Riehl, President; Joan Wildhack, Secretary; Ann Thomas, Vice-President and Acting Treasurer.

THE LIBRARY COUNCIL this year, because of its large membership, is divided into the Senior and Junior Library Councils. The entire council consists of students who give up their study hall time to assist Miss Hart in dusting, arranging and repairing books, and managing the library in general.

Our Library Council is also a member of the Central New York Association of Student Librarians.

We all owe our thanks to its members for, through their consistent work, we have our present efficient library.

Howard J. McCabe

THE SCIO CLUB has much to offer those students wishing to develop their interests in science. Under the supervision of Mr. Howard McCabe students carry on projects along their own particular line of interest with the hopes of exhibiting or demonstrating them at the annual congresses.

Early in September a rough plan of each project is sketched. Materials are gathered, assembled and experiments performed. By January the projects are well underway and in the spring the finishing touches are added.

Now they are ready to be displayed at the congresses which are large gatherings attended by students throughout this area. College teachers, professors and professional people are usually the judges while businessmen and colleges offer awards and scholarships. The Scio Club is proud of the many prizes and ribbons as well as scholarships that have been awarded to W. C. S. participants.

Appreciation — OUR

In this past year, music has touched all of us. It has taught the students of Whitesboro deep appreciation for music. We are all grateful to those who perform in the music organizations that bring these fine melodies to us. By being in a music group a person can develop his mental appreciation as well as music appreciation.

This appreciation has been furthered by the fine, sincere singing of the A Cappella Choir. We all remember the inspiring Palm Sunday Religious Program and Christmas Program, the joyful Concert Carnival and the ever remembered Spring Choral Concert along with the splendid showings in the Eisteddfod and State Contest. These all were done under the competent and helping hand of an excellent director, Mrs. Dorothea Waddell.

We also need to mention some of those who have done much to build the choir. Helping Mrs. Waddell were Thomas Farrell, President; Robert Brown, Vice-President; Richard Bathrick, Treasurer; Jane Rhodes, Secretary; and Deborah Lennon, Librarian. Besides these, some members were honored by attending the All-State Sectional at Rome, the All-State Choir at Buffalo and to those who went to Westminster Choir College Summer Session last summer.

It has been an exceptionally fine year for the choir and we add our praise.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Dorothea Waddell, the Girls' Choir has accomplished much success in this past year. If a girl hasn't the ability to play an instrument, she can always belong to Girls' Choir and sing. This develops the girls' musical ability which in turn improves their mental skill. The members soon learn to appreciate music if they hadn't before.

This year Girls' Choir has participated at the Concert Carnival, Eisteddfod Contest, and Spring Choral Concert. They should be complimented on their splendid renditions with Mrs. Waddell.

The officers have contributed to the excellent work that has been done. They are: Pat Field, President; Jane Rhodes, Vice-President; Joyce Kolmer, Secretary; Sylvia Kowal, Treasurer; and Joan Ellis, Librarian.

No matter what branch of music a student is in, he learns to appreciate music and will remember his experi-

Choir is not the only music group that has done splendid work this year. We also had a fine orchestra and were fortunate to have Mr. Cilecek as its director. He should be congratulated on the moulding and the building that he has done with the orchestra.

Orchestra has had a wonderful year. It started out playing for the Senior Play. In February there was a combined concert with the band which was very successful. Also, they participated in the Eisteddfod and State Contest.

By being a member of this organization, a student learns to appreciate music, although he does not have to belong to orchestra to receive these benefits — the student body as a whole can get these when the orchestra plays at an assembly.

Working with Mr. Cilecek to shape orchestra into something the school would be proud of are the officers. They are: Maren Ellis, President; Josephine Krawczyk, Vice-President; Joanne Bailey, Secretary; and Barbara Bigelow, Treasurer. Without these people, it would be a difficult task to cover all the little points that go along with an orchestra.

Along with our fine orchestra and choir, we also have an excellent band which has furthered our music appreciation in this past year by its brilliant and outstanding showings and performances. We are all grateful to the students in the band and to the new director, Mr. Cantwell, who has devoted full time to it. We owe our praises to the band for entertaining the school with its sparkling marches at the assemblies and on the football field. It is through such things as this that we all appreciate it.

We must give special credit to Mr. Cantwell who, as a new engineer, took his baton and music and continued the band's firm foundation. With his able and competent direction the band gave excellent performances in the Annual Band and Orchestra Concert, The Concert Carnival, the Eisteddfod and State Contest.

For those too, who added much time and work to band, we owe special recognition. Working with Mr. Cantwell were Richard Bathrick, President; Margaret Russell, Vice-President; Robert Klumbach, Treasurer; Barbara Rathbone and Adeline Koronowski, Librarians; and Robert Markley, Property Manager. Also we should all give special praise to Margaret Russell, who received a full tuition scholarship to Wayne University of Detroit and for being the only instrumentalist from our band to go to the All-State Orchestra in Buffalo. And to the rest of the band, our thanks and appreciation for producing such fine music through this year for our enjoyment.

The music department has done an excellent job this year in building up throughout the student body an interest and appreciation of all music activities. Some students of band, orchestra, and choir have done such outstanding work that high honors have been given to them. But these people would not have had an opportunity to develop their musical ability if it had not been for the orchestra, band and choir groups which were fortunate to have competent, experienced directors to help them. Band, choir and orchestra have shown the school just how much can be gained by developing music appreciation and we wish to take this opportunity to convey our thanks to them.

Service — TO SCHOOL

Students who are eligible to belong to the Senior Service organization are Juniors and Seniors. Under the able direction of Miss Margaret Jackson, our advisor, Senior Service helps direct activities that take place here at school. The officers of Senior Service are President, Pat Field; Vice-President, Sylvia Miga; Secretary, Maren Ellis.

This year Senior Service worked for Career Day which was attended by five schools including W. C. S. Senior Service members directed the consultants to their specified rooms and, in general, helped the program run smoothly. In March, the Senior Service members ushered at the Concert Carnival and in June at the Spring Choral Concert. The members also ushered at Baccalaureate and the graduation ceremony.

Senior Service is an efficient organization that helps make an assembly or any program run smoothly.

SENIOR ATHLETIC SERVICE OFFICERS — Below: Byron Rice, President; Josephine Blat, Vice President; Patricia Field, Secretary; James Saville, Sergeant-at-Arms; Allen Dymon, Treasurer.

SENIOR ATHLETIC SERVICE under the guidance of Mr. William Kirwan, faculty advisor, is a service group that assists at athletic events such as football and basketball games. The 1952-53 leaders elected were: Byron Rice, President; Josephine Blatt, Vice-President; Patricia Field, Secretary; and Allen Dymon, Treasurer. New members were chosen to join the group at the beginning of the year.

During the fall, football tickets are sold and collected by this organization. Attractive programs are prepared and sold for the benefit of the Athletic Association. During basketball season, tickets and programs are projects again undertaken. Keeping people away from the gym floor is another problem solved by this group.

Through the cooperation of the students and spectators at the various sports events this service organization has been able to keep order at the games and have proved themselves to be an asset to W. C. S.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA helps to mold the girls to be the homemakers of tomorrow. The girls learn to appreciate their mothers and the homemakers of today, and their mental skill is built toward homemaking. The girls have worked on toward their goal by making Christmas presents for the Home for Aged Men and Couples in Utica. Among their projects were serving the refreshments at the National Honor Society tea and holding a bake sale.

Officers who have led the girls are Shirley Lazarek, President; Marion Williams, Vice-President; Marcelle Wiggins, Secretary; and Shirley Powell, Treasurer.

As you can see, the Future Homemakers of America under the leadership of Miss Mahoney, prepares all its girls to be the homemakers of tomorrow.

JUNIOR HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA is a derivative of the senior group. They mold and build the girls to that they will be prepared to become members of the Senior Homemakers of America.

This year they have accomplished many things. Some of these are a Christmas Dinner and party, made puppets and dolls for Easter presents for the Crippled Childrens' Home, held a St. Patrick's party, and also a Mother's Night.

With the help from Miss Toussaint all the members have had fun working and learning to improve themselves so they can become the homemakers of tomorrow.

THE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA teach and build the boys to become the future farmers of tomorrow. To become this, the boys work on their own farms so they can improve their manual skill. In this organization, the boys experiment on different phases of agriculture so they can improve on their future occupations.

JUNIOR SERVICE ORGANIZATION is composed of ambitious Junior High students. Under the capable leadership of Miss Grace Hanicker these students have helped the school greatly by their efficient work in carrying out their responsibilities. Some of these tasks are distribution of absentee lists and collection of attendance slips. The officers for this year were: President, Ruth Herthum, Vice-President, Rose Guarno; Treasurer, Barbara Keal; and Secretary, Gale Bliss.

THE SECRETARIAL PRACTICE CLUB, under the supervision of Mrs. Mae Fulmer, started the year by electing officers. Janet Pelc was elected President. Josephine Blat was elected Vice-President and Marcia Stolarczyk was chosen as Recording and Corresponding Secretary. Betty Miller was appointed as chairman of all activities.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint the members with the various phases of activity in the business world. The members made the programs for the Senior Play and concerts. They also did work for teachers. In November the club took a trip to Utica Mutual Insurance Company. Everyone agreed that the trip was not only interesting but informative.

They have had many happy times together and have profited greatly from Mrs. Fulmer's friendly and excellent advice.

THE FRENCH CLUB embarked upon many interesting activities which have kept its members engaged. Numerous parties were held such as the Christmas Party and the Mardi Gras Party which was held for all students taking French. "Le Cercle Francais" also sent clothing to France for the use of orphans. A letter of appreciation was received from Tom Jones, chief distributor.

Students become members of French Club by taking one-half year of French. During the meeting French is spoken and the members increase their French vocabulary by taking an active part in the discussions and programs. French Club has taught many students their "Oui's and Non's." "Comprenez-vous?"

We students of Whitesboro Central School are proud of our Athletic Department for it has in many ways helped build our physical fitness and character. Athletics have been a part of us all through physical education and school teams. Sports not only build up the body, but the spirit as well. Sportsmanship, teamwork, and consideration of others rank along with ability here at Whitesboro.

The teams that Whitesboro has produced have carried our name far and wide. This year has been no exception for our football and basketball teams have measured up well. Winning is always our goal, but our men can be good losers too.

Our football team is under the able engineering of Mr. Frye, with Mr. Head and Mr. Leach as assistant engineers. With a strong line making holes for swift running backs, our team went through the season with few set-backs. The final product shaped up like this:

Whitesboro	0	Norwich 34
Whitesboro	20	Ilion 0
Whitesboro	6	Proctor 7

We acknowledge the hard work of Mr. Frye with the Varsity and Mr. Ingersoll for coaching a good Junior Varsity team, in making this record.

Besides these two major sports, we have volleyball, track, cross country, baseball, and wrestling. Mr. Frye has also shown outstanding results in his coaching of volleyball and baseball, Mr. Gillen track and cross country, and Mr. Head wrestling. All of these have carried the name of Whitesboro proudly and in our finest tradition.

We Seniors will always remember all the wonderful sports events of Whitesboro during this year and the fine teams Mr. Frye and his staff have produced.

The school newspaper plays an important role in the activities of the school . . . It's name, "Wisp", has its own meaning—"Whitesboro inspires school pride."

Under the guidance of Mrs. Marion Fitzgerald, Advisor, all types of writing, such as news stories, editorials, and sports, are available to willing individuals who wish to make use of their creative ability. Head-line writing and construction of the dummy have proved to be special talents of some members.

"Wisp" provides articles of interest to all students from grades seven through twelve. "Junior High-Lites" is a special column for news and interesting projects carried on by the seventh and eighth graders. Through the efforts of the entire Wisp staff, the student body is kept "up-to-date" on all W. C. S. news.

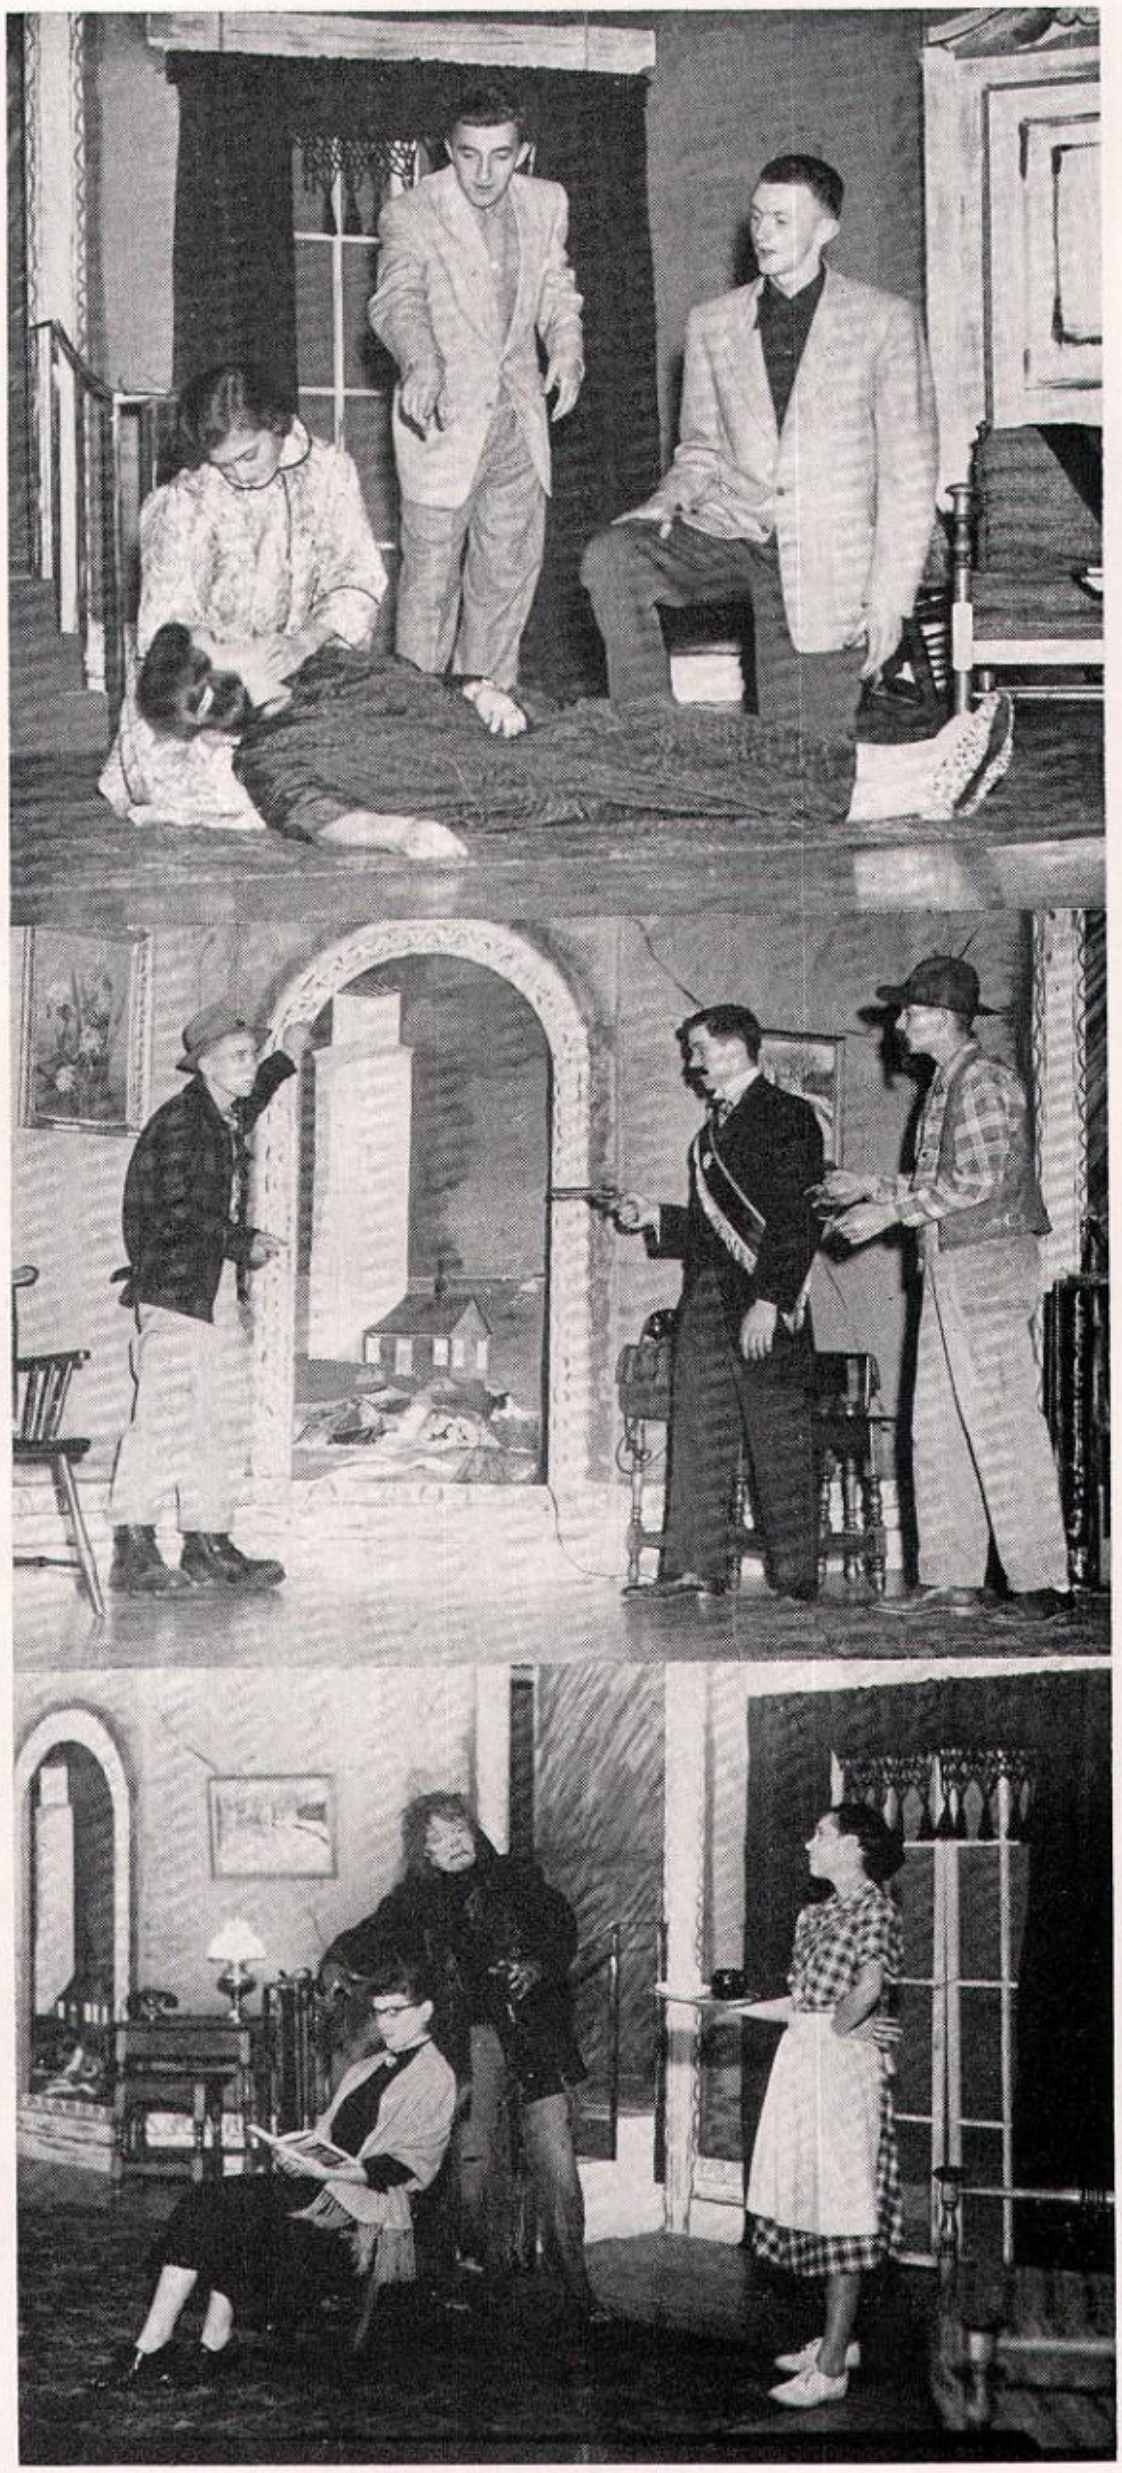
. . . ACTING AND STUDYING



"GHOST WANTED"

by Guernsey LePelley

Our Senior play is an important school event, which has been built up as the years have gone by. Each year it becomes more popular with the entire student body, and as a result there have been more participants to make it successful.

This year's play was entitled "Ghost Wanted" by Guernsey LePelley. It was a three-act comedy with a mysterious plot whereby it was proved that there is no such thing as a ghost. The entire action took place in the living room of the Stormgay house on Ramshead Rock, an island off the coast of Maine. Act I was set in the late afternoon on a foggy day. Foul play had been detected by Nora Vane because of the mysterious disappearance of Simon Gore, who was believed to be haunting the household. In Act II, several hours later, near midnight, evidence had appeared that Simon Gore was murdered, and that was the reason for his disappearance. It was in this act that the mysterious monster made his entrance. In Act III, the murder was solved. Hatcher, the handyman, was the murderer.

The cast consisted of twelve capable and talented actors. Bob Brown (Hugo Bromley) and John Barry (Jeffrey Hall) illustrated the parts of two friends who answered the ad for a ghost. Margaret Russell and Deborah Lennon, the Stormgay sisters, were two teen-aged girls who lived in the mysterious household. Mary Lou Roberts portrayed Troddy, the maid, and Robert Boehlert played the part of Hatcher, the hired handyman. Granny Kate, characterized by Marilyn Miller, was the proprietor of the Stormgay house who was enchanted by the arts of voodooism. Her associates, Nancy Nemeyer (Madame Zolga) and Robert Branagh (Professor De Vallan), were the mysterious visitors, who were engaged in exercising the powers of voodoo. Azalea, the lobster woman from the nearby village, was played by Patricia Wendt. Jane Miller as Nora Vane was the woman detective representing the Amalgamated Seaman's Home. The sheriff, Mr. Bradshaw, was illustrated by Alfred Juda. Paul Wrubel should be commended for his fine pantomime and characterization of the monster.

Miss Dorothy Dey, with the assistance of Joan Wildhack, did a commendable job on making our production a success. Everyone's participation has been appreciated and without it the overwhelming success would not have been attained.

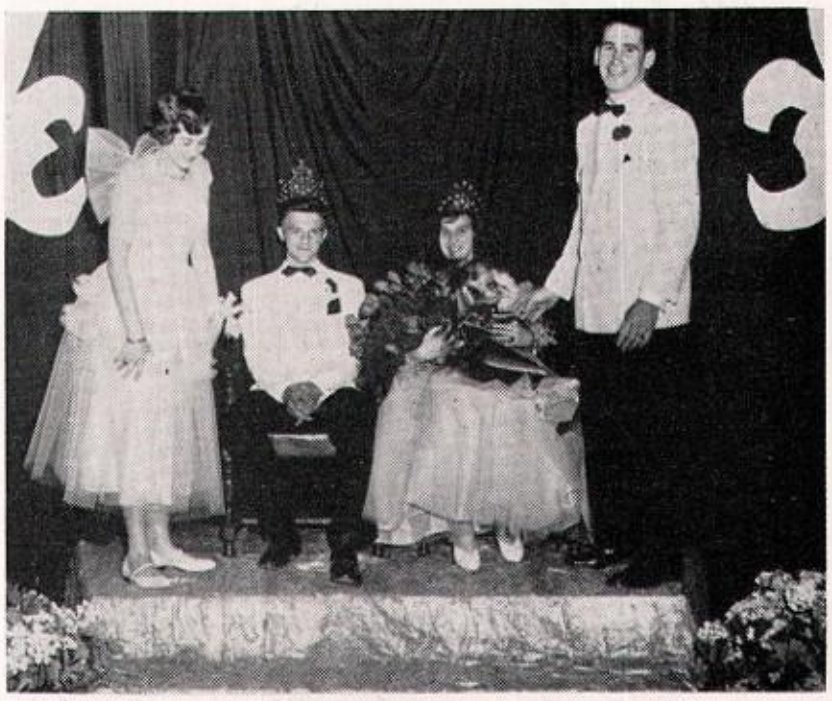
Social development



On May 23, 1952, each Junior's dream became a reality as he walked on the boulevard of the Champs-Elysess, the most beautiful and magnificent boulevard in the world. Entering the Arc de Triomphe, the ecstacy of Paris was unfolded before him. Passing the Seine, the quaint antique buildings could be seen far across the river. Walking farther down the boulevard, he sees the famous fashion salons typical of Paris in which all of the mannequins were dressed in the latest Paris creations.

As couples strolled along the boulevard, they passed the cinema which was gaily decorated with the latest movie posters, the travel bureau and our famous Cafe de-la-Paix where one could go for refreshments.

The soft music of Ted Radley's orchestra filled the cool evening with a romantic mood and added the exquisite touch of majestic beauty to the coronation of our lovely queen, Monica Gorecki and her handsome king, Bob Swartzman. Then — with the grand march — the Prom became just a lovely memory in every Junior's heart and one last glimpse of an "Evening in Paris" was sought. This beautiful evening was brought about through the diligent work of the following members of the Art Committee: Bob Brown, Mary Carr, Carolyn Crumb, Chris Durham, Doreen Eberley, Maren Ellis, Douglas Ferguson, Pat Field, Eugene Fletcher, Lillian Gadizala, Marjorie Garguilo, Patricia Glatt, Dana Hardy, Kathleen Hughes, Monsour Jowid, Al Juda, Regina Kobielski, Josephine Krawczyk, James McCarthy, Jane Miller, John Miller, Marilyn Miller, Patricia Powers, Carol Robenski, Byron Rice, Jane Schmitter, Joan Schreppel, Jean Stofle, Barbara Tormey, Patricia Wendt, Jean Whipple and Stanley Zurakowski.

Debby Lennon and George Herthum acted as co-chairmen of the Prom committee while Tom Farrell and Joan Wildhack assisted with supervision of the re-creation of the Paris scene. However, without the magnificent guidance of Miss Margaret Jackson and Mr. Louis Thompson an "Evening in Paris" would never have become a reality for the student body of Whitesboro.

Being a member of a sorority or fraternity helps a person to develop his or her social life. An organization of this sort molds and builds the people into the adults of tomorrow. In a sorority or fraternity the girls and boys learn to respect and appreciate other people's beliefs. Also the students get to know more people by participating in these organizations.

During the year, the sororities and fraternities put on dances with each other to raise money. The sororities contribute to charity causes throughout the year.

Let's take each one individually and tell what each one has done. Omega Phi held a dance with the chapter of O. P. in Utica which was a great success. Also they've sponsored a bake sale, roller skating party, and a dance at school.

Alpha Beta Gamma has had a successful year. They have taken orphans to the movies on different week-ends, contributed money to charity funds, held a dance with K. E. and the annual semi with N. B. Besides this they have sponsored a bake sale, rummage sale, and have held banquets throughout the year.

Among K. E. Society's many accomplishments are a dance with A. B., a dance with M. E., bake sales, rummage sale, and given money to charity causes. One of the big activities of the year is the annual convention with the other twenty chapters of the state. It was held this year in Schenectady, New York .

Meta Hetorian Fraternity also had a very busy year. With a temporary club house the meetings became more informal and enjoyable. The ranks were increased with many new members. During this eventful year M. E. has sponsored many a successful Juke Box Dance, a bake sale and the annual Easter Dance with K. E. A ready M. E. basketball team met the mighty N. B. boys in the annual classic basketball game to raise money for the Varsity Basketball team's trip to New York. However, N. B. proved to be too much for the gallant M. E.

Last but not least is Nostra Brata Fraternity. N. B. started off the year with a bang. A dance after a football game and the always enjoyed Annual Semi-Formal with A. B. at Twin Ponds Country Club. Meetings too were much better because of the atmosphere of the recently completed club house. In the annual N. B. — M. E. basketball game, the powerful N. B. met the potent M. E. and the battle ensued. But, the swift N. B. team put down M. E. 21-16 to win.

As you can see, belonging to a sorority or fraternity helps to build the students into better Americans so that some day they will be able to face the world as adults.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Che-ga-quat-ka chapter of the National Honor Society is one of many national groups whose members have attained recognition for having outstanding character in leadership, scholarship and service.

At the beginning of this year, the National Honor Society, composed of only nine members, elected officers. Al Juda was elected President with Ivars Leja as Vice-President, Monica Gorecki as Secretary, and Ann Thomas as the Treasurer.

We started the year by attending a meeting of all the National Honor Societies of the neighboring schools at New Hartford. At this meeting it was decided to elect two representatives from each school to attend a meeting in April. In April officers were elected to head the National Honor Society in this area. A banquet was held for all members. Our representatives were Eugene Nuding and Judith Lennon. They were chosen from the new members taken in during December.

Mary Carr, Monica Gorecki, Alfred Juda, Ivars Leja, Janet Steinhorst, Ann Thomas, Jeannette Nogas, Mary Ann White, and Joan Wildhack have been members since 1951. Carolyn Crumb, Chris Durham, Lillian Hayduck, Kathleen Hughes, James McCarthy, Jane Miller, Marilyn Miller, Patricia Wendt, Joanne Bailey, Barbara Bigelow, Jane Frye, Olga Garbowski, Barbara Klingel, Adeline Koronowski, Judith Lennon, Eugene Nuding, Constance Raga, Shirley Rowlands, Mary Silcox, Constance Slosek and Elaine Trad have been members since 1952.

The Juniors in our chapter have an average of at least 90. The Senior's averages are 87 or above. These students were chosen to become members on the basis of National Honor Society's four principles of developing the individual — Character, Service, Leadership and Scholarship.

Following in our footsteps are the present underclassmen. Our story might guide them in their paths . . . We arrived as Freshmen in September '49. With anxious bewildered expressions we entered our classrooms. Our role as builders in Whitesboro Central's history had begun. We began to try to advance W. C. S. in scholarship, athletics, and social standing. To lead our young and eager class we chose Junior Jowid as President, Henry Haas as Vice-President, James Britt as Secretary, and Maren Ellis as Treasurer. We made our debut with the successful Frosh Frolic. Our Freshmen activities ended with the class picnic at Caroga Lake.

Before we knew it we were Sophomores, starting the second step in our part in the building of W. C. S. Chet Przylucki was elected President, Debbie Lennon as Vice-President, Marcia Stolarczyk as Secretary, and Junior Jowid as Treasurer. Somehow we all lived through "Silas Marner." With great pride we presented our Soph Hop as our second endeavor to raise money for our seemingly distant yearbook. Again we went to Caroga Lake for our picnic.

We became Juniors, electing Lou LaGrand as President, Ivars Leja as Vice-President, Jim Britt as Secretary, and Chet Przylucki as Treasurer. The Ring Committee was chosen and after a week of pandemonium the design was chosen. Later the halls echoed with "We've Got Rings On Our Fingers," and we spent the rest of the week showing our newly acquired trinkets to the rest of the school.

At last it was time to start thinking about the Prom, with George Herthum and Debbie Lennon as chairman and co-chairman. As soon as the committees were set up, we began work. May 23rd showed the results of their splendid cooperation. "An Evening in Paris" was truly a night to remember! We racked our brains in an effort to survive the horrible torture of Regents' Exams. It didn't seem possible for a five-day week to last so long. We received our report cards, marking the end of our eventful years as underclassmen.

Seniors . . . .

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS — Marilyn Miller, Treasurer; Maren Ellis, Secretary; Byron Rice, Vice-President; Chester Przylucki, President.

1953

we were Seniors — the finished products and the leaders of our school. Most of us found it hard to believe, but it's true. We were faced with the responsibility of setting the examples for the underclassmen. Our class had its first group meeting to choose its officers. Selected as President was Chester Pryzlucki, Byron Rice as Vice-President, Maren Ellis as Secretary and Marilyn Miller as Treasurer. The yearbook staff heads had been chosen the previous Spring and now the committees were established. Carolyn Crumb our editor-in-chief started worrying over the inevitable word "deadline". But we finally met it.

Under the excellent direction of Miss Dey, we presented our senior play, "Ghost Wanted". This was one of the big events of our final year. Using our high pressure tactics, the supersalesmen of the Senior Class set out selling Christmas cards and magazine subscriptions. As the months went by we started to constantly pester Miss Berryman and Mr. Fillips for information on colleges. One day Miss Berryman announced that she had to measure us for caps and gowns. Could graduation, our last function as a class, be so near? Following this came our Senior Ball and already the sentimental ones were making plans for a class reunion.

Through the last five years we have been slowly building ouselves up as a class, aiding our school and our community. As graduation nears we all look back and hope we have helped to better Whitesboro Central School. We, the Class of '53, hope we have done our part in the betterment of W. C. S. and have tried to keep up with the finest Whitesboro traditions.
